

Mother Nature displays her lessons continually—but too few see.

Man's ignorance is supreme, for he is a student too busy going to classes to learn—

When will we again see the day when nature is the teacher and man the attentive student?

Man's semester is running out . . . the final grade will soon be posted.

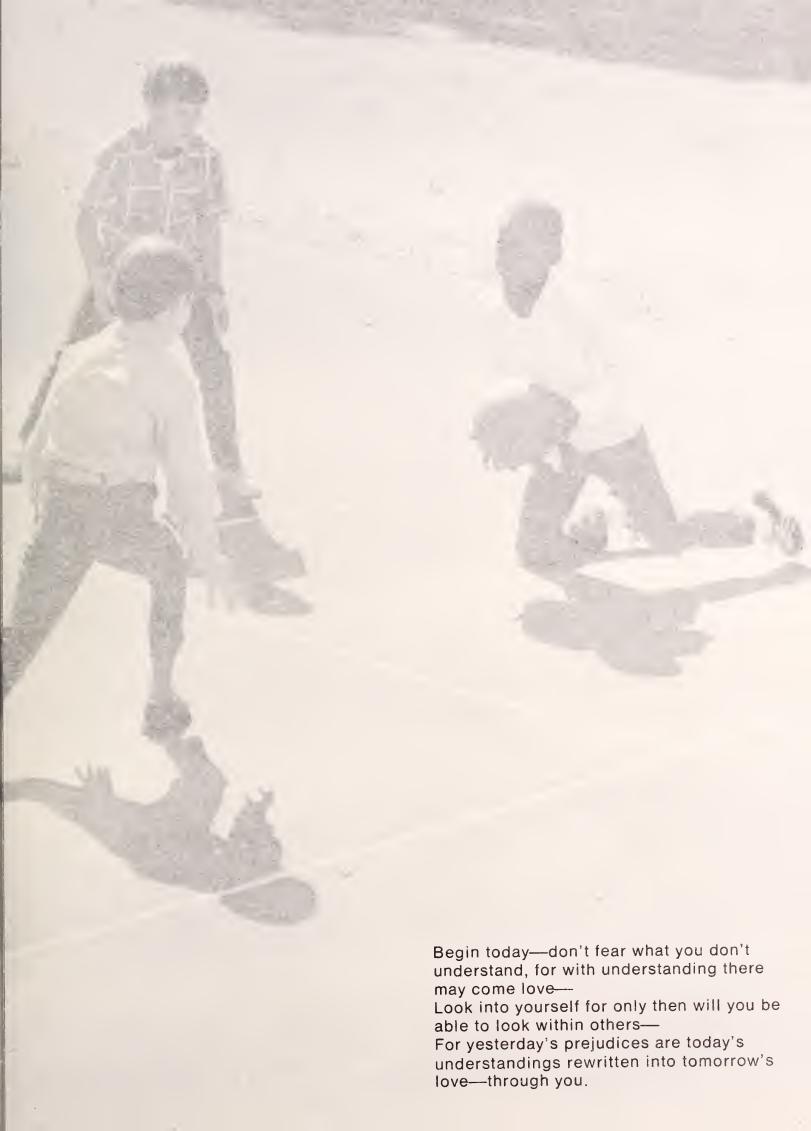

Man's accomplishments are complex and far reaching from the ocean to the moon and Mars-His continual search for knowledge, a cure for cancer, a solution to the monetary crisis, Red China and the U.N.? Viet Nam, the bomb Where can man advance now backward into himself . . . ?

Change—continual . . . progressive? Women's Lib, the new morality, drugs, no-hours dorms, middies, maxies, jeans, more concrete, fewer trees . . . Change—What will it do to Northwestern?

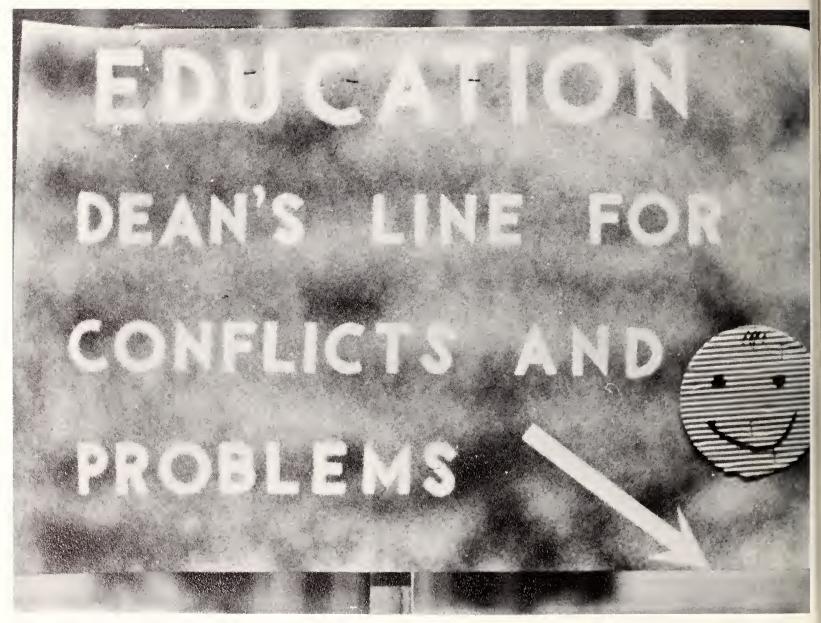

You came. . . .and the happening began.

the Gallery • 0-165 the Select • 168-195 Competition • 198-257 the Masses • 260-337 Conclusion • 338-339 The beginning was when we arrived and became involved. We were to be full-fledged students in many ways, but we began by giving our names and numbers, majors and classifications, patience and strength, frustration and tears, and receiving disappointments and "Sorry it's closed." We thought to ourselves, "Registration—there's got to be a better way!"

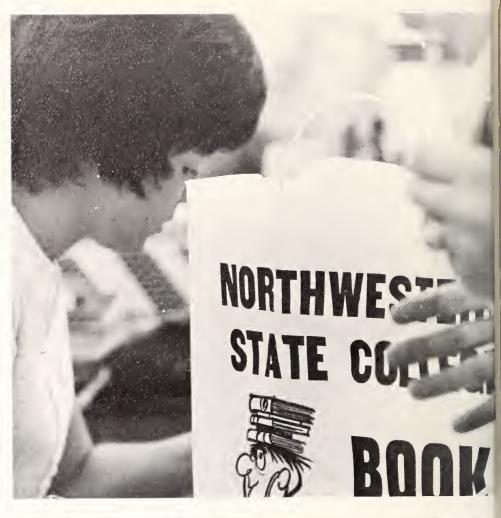

We had a short rest and began again . . . only this time we were called upon to give even more.

Dollars and cents composed of three digit numbers, were taken for the privilege of dining in Iberville and being "treated" at the Infirmary.

Next on our guided tour was the bookstore. Where else could you buy a book one minute for $22.50 and as the cash register rang out, have its value depreciate to more than half its worth? We had been introduced to "University red-tape," and this was the way we learned "How to play the college game." NSU, like so many other universities, had progressed to the new social security classification system for student identification. In the future all individuals will be stamped at birth to eliminate possible error during your educational experience. We soon learned the rules of the game . . . "Your number please'' . . . 435-90-4058 . . . We knew it by heart.

We awoke by alarm clocks and met another day. Natchitoches and Louisiana, Rapides and Sabine, were soon known as our homes away from home. We studied some, and slept even less. But, the other times . . . well they were sometimes something else . . . card marathons, phone conversations, running from room to room. stereos and radios. TV's and tape players, hair dryers and showers, 12:00 curfews, minors and restrictions, roommates and suitemates: adjustment—confusion —excitement. . . . dorm life.

I_J, G_H, D . . . combinations to letters, stops by the P.O. . . . cokes, coffee, donuts, baked potatoes, breaks between classes in the student union . . . These were part of our daily routines. It was here that numbers met numbers, and strangers met friends. At times there was a harmonious exchange of thoughts which was happily alike . . . To communicate was the beginning of understanding . . .

Defenders of justice, distributors of tickets
. . . campus security marched right along with us.
There were places of interest morning, noon and night . . Curb service—table service . . . take out—eat in . . . Yes, some of these were the busiest places in town.

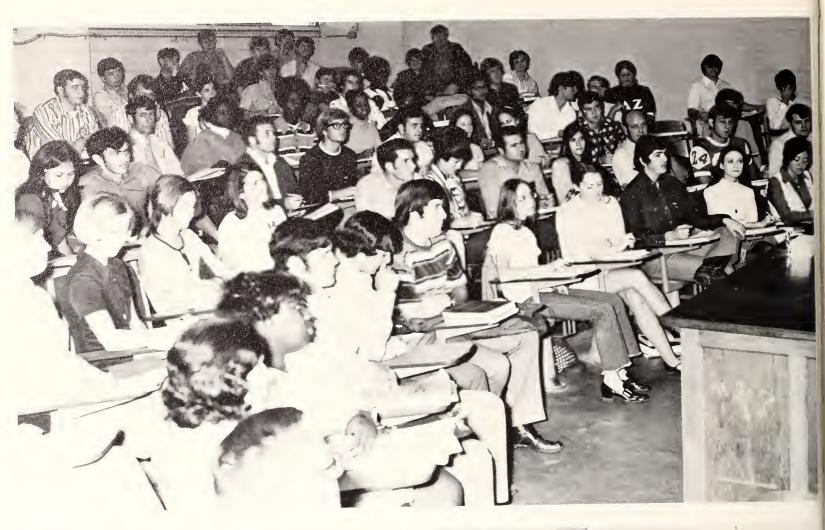

Class attendance was a must for freshmen and sophomores; but ahh, what bliss there was in being a junior or senior. Lectures and labs . . . studying and daydreaming . . . the endless walking. In the maze of classes there were challenging instructors, who could at times become understanding friends . . . To communicate was the beginning of understanding . . . We were involved in the happening, but remained as individuals . . . And in the end, we were tested, not to punish us, but to help us meet tomorrow.

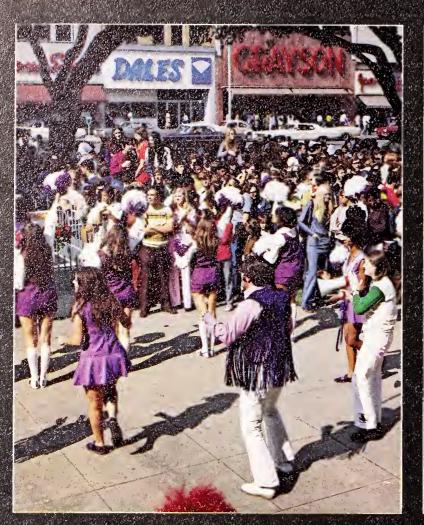

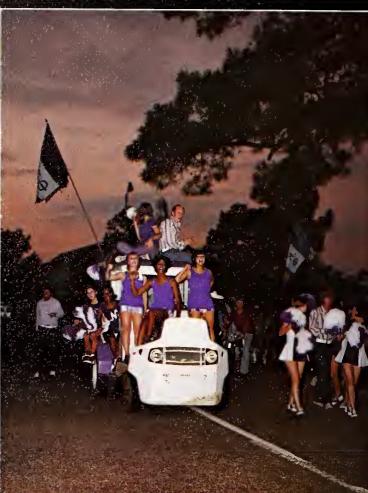

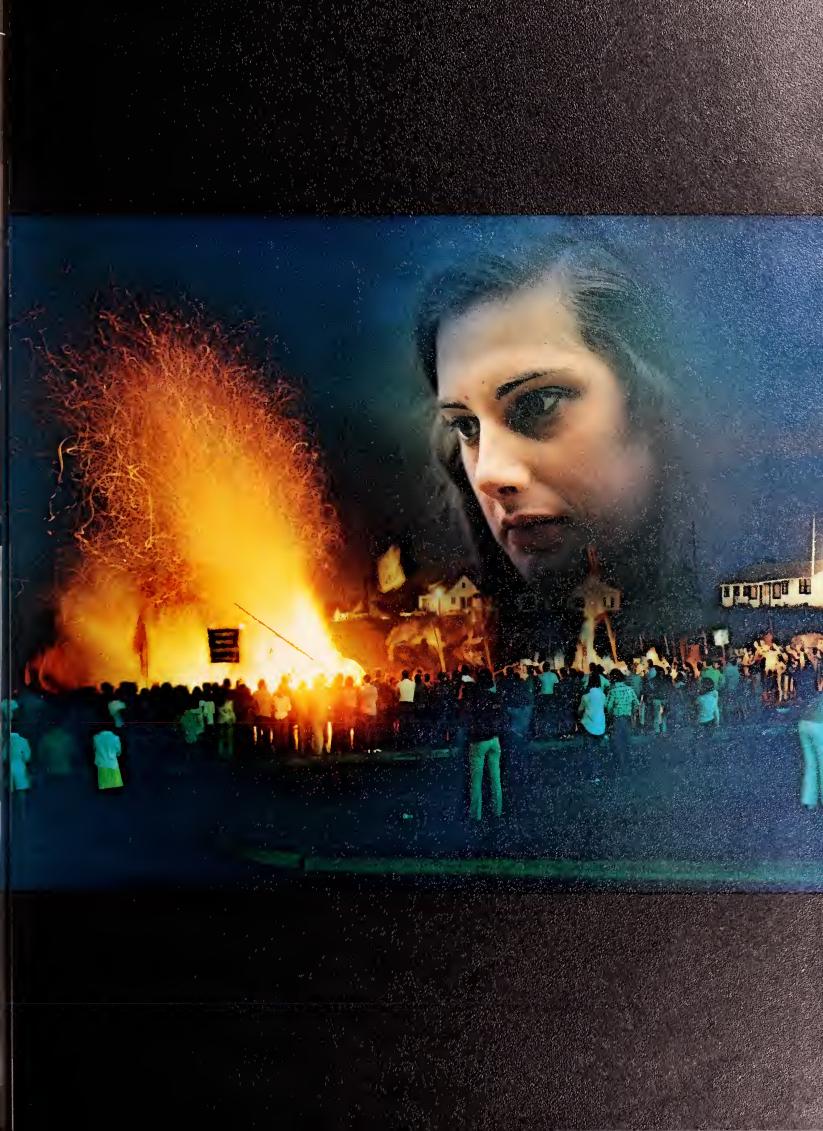

In the midst of academics, we took time out for the traditional State Fair weekend. "Tech fever" was upon us and we loved it. There was excitement, anxiety, and tension. We had pep rallies, parades, and bonfires. We experienced the hope of victory and received the disappointment of defeat. These were the times of true student life at its best, and those were days filled with unforgettable memories.

A time to return, reminisce, and remember. This was the homecoming of the alumnae.

Older faces, newer ones, forgotten faces, familiar ones . . . changes on campus and preserved traditions . . . graduates and undergraduates . . . all these happened, to unite past, present and future children of Northwestern, to become for a while, as one.

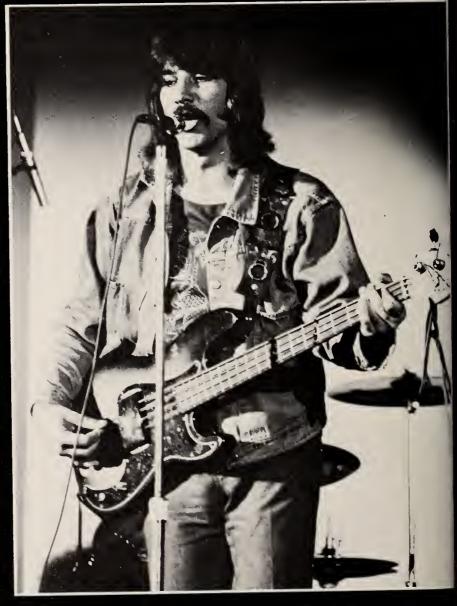

We enjoyed various entertainment. There were play productions, big name entertainment, and intimate coffeehouse players.
Grass Roots . . ,
Nitty Gritty . . . Josh White . . . Three-Penny Opera were among those who performed.

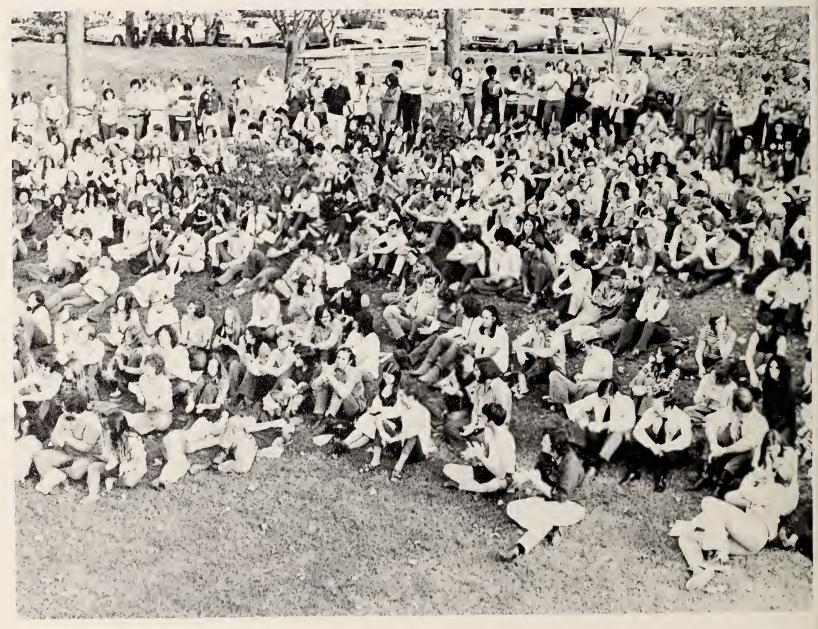

Voting, rallies,
Gubernatorial and Presidental candidates, dissention and involvement . . .
The first step in solving any problem was recognizing that it existed. Problems did exist and we did
try to solve them;
sometimes successfully
. . . sometimes in vain.

Quietness was somewhere inside us. It was not too hard to find. At times we looked and found it. We were at peace. We took time to be ourselves. We went beyond the surface and found emotions we were unaware of. The feelings we found were reflected in the happiness of friendship, the beauty of nature, the wonder of religion, and the mystery of real love,

"To everything there is a season and a time to every purpose under the heaven." Ecclesiates 3

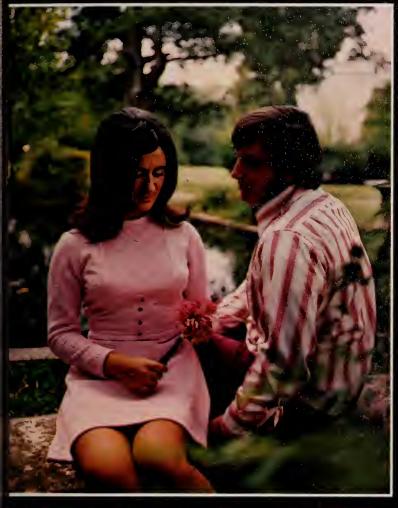

"Write on your hearts that every day is the best day of the year." Ralph Waldo Emerson

"My bounty is as boundless as the sea, my love as deep; the more I give to thee, the more I have, for both are infinite." William Shakespeare

'There was a time to love' . . . and love happened through four seasons.

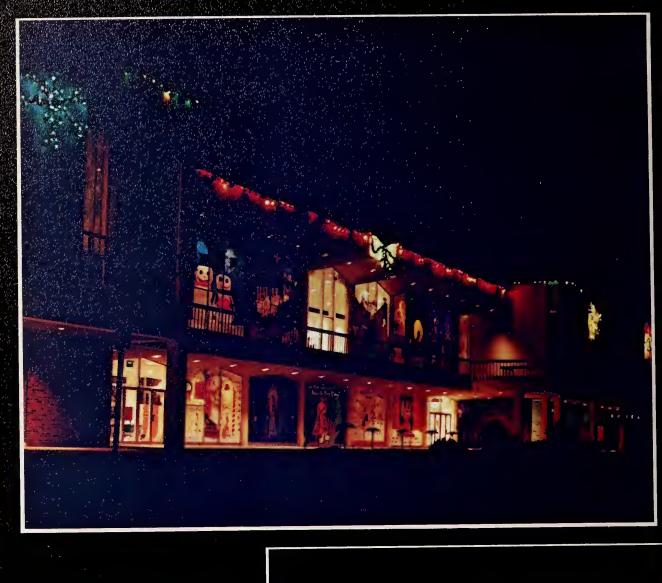

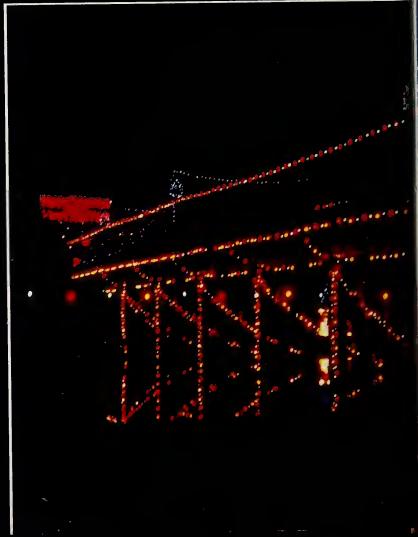

"For I do love you as the dew loves the flowers: as the birds love the sunshine; as the wavelets love the breeze."

Mark Twain

"What is beautiful is a joy for all seasons and a possession for all eternity"

Oscar Wilde

Christmas in Natchitoches was a time of wonder, beauty, lovely sincerity, and heartwarming reverence. Nowhere else in the world quite compared to it, as the city bid welcome to all, and said "Merry Christmas" through lights.

There was a little of a child in all of us, more in some and a lot in most. But it was through those days at Northwestern, that helped us to grow from children to adults. We grew not only in age, but in the knowledge we gained through involvement and experience. We were involved in campus activities academically, socially, and professionally. We experienced new places, new people, new happenings and new responsibilities . . . We grew.

Through all this we learned . . . We were a part of NSU because, NSU happened through us.

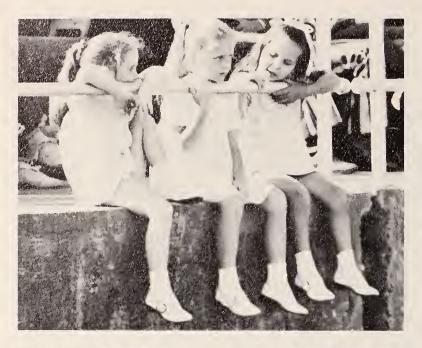

"A Prayer For Peace"

Our Father up in heaven, hear this fervent prayer:

May the people of all nations be united in thy care.

For earth's peace and man's salvation can come only by thy grace

And not through bombs and missiles and our quest for outer space . . .

For until all men recognize that "the battle is the Lord's"

And peace on earth cannot be won with strategy and swords,

We will go on vainly fighting, as we have in ages past, Finding only empty victories and a peace that cannot last . . .

But we've grown so rich and so arrogantly strong,

We no longer ask in humbleness—"God, show us where we're wrong"...

We have come to trust completely in the power of man-made things,

Unmindful of God's mighty power and that He is "king of Kings"

We have turned our eyes away from Him to go our selfish ways,

And money, power and pleasure are the gods we serve today . . .

And the good green earth God gave us to peacefully enjoy,

Through greed and fear and hatred we are seeking to destroy . . .

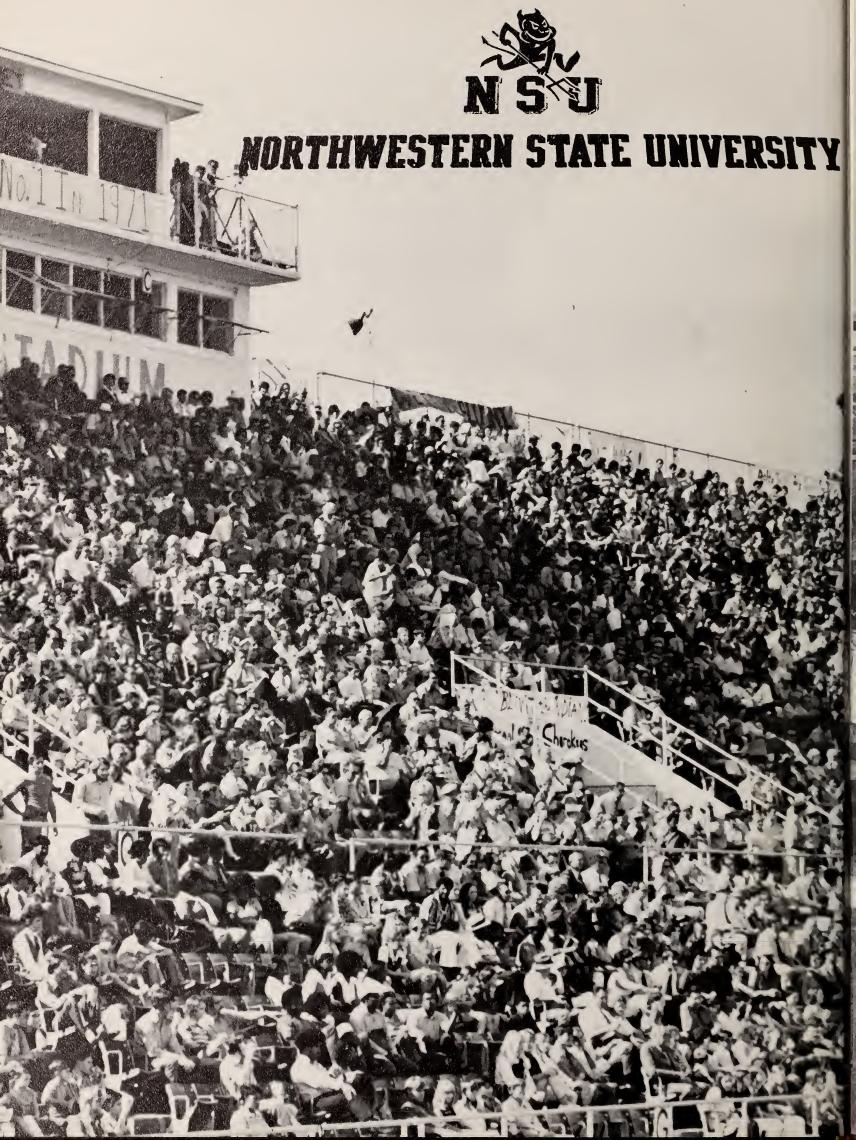

Oh, Father up in heaven, stir and wake our sleeping souls,

Renew our faith and lift us up and give us higher goals,

And grant us heavenly guidance as war threatens us again . . .

For more than guided missiles, all the world needs guided men.

Demon Marching Band

The 160-member Demon Marching Band was comprised of students from all parts of Louisiana, as well as from different sections of the United States. While there was diversity of academic interest among the Band members, all had one common desire—to produce top notch entertainment for football fans during every half-time performance. Of this years total membership, 50 students were music majors and 72 students were freshmen. With the nucleus provided by this large and talented freshman class, the Demon Marching Band anticipated a very successful season in 1972.

Football 1971

A brisk warm-up before NSU's season opener proved to be beneficial. Out of the nine games the Demons played they won six, lost two, and tied one.

Demons Gone Independent

NSU Demons were classified as a small college independent football team for the first time in 24 years. This resulted when the Gulf States Conference was dissolved in the Spring, 1971. Despite the break up of the GSC, Northwestern remained eligible for NCAA and NAIA postseason competition in all sports. At the start of the season the Demons had a loss of 14 lettermen, but the players succeeding the lettermen and the 29 returning lettermen showed great skill and willingness to lead the Demons to their fifth winning season. Heading the coaching staff was Glenn Gossett, John Roppoffensive line, Johnnie Emmons-offensive backs, Herbie Smith-offensive ends, George Doherty-defensive line, Gene Knecht-defensive backs, Billy J. Talton-graduate assistant, Wayne Davis-graduate assistant, and Eugene Christmas-athletic trainer.

Demons Opened Season With Double Triumphs

The Demons opened their season with their first out of town game in Shreveport against Gustavus Adolphus. The Golden Gusties fell to the Demons 24-10. Donald Johnson made the longest touchdown run from scrimmage (80 yards) in this game. He also gained 173 yards in only eight carries against the Golden Gusties. Demons had 299 yards net rushing against Gustavus Adolphus, the most for this season. For the Demon's second win they traveled to Nacogdoches to play Stephen F. Austin. The Lumberjacks lost 18-7. The Demons had the season's best total defense of 120 yards and rushing defense 39 yards against the Lumberjacks. This game also held the season's longest kickoff return, 50 yards, made by Donald Johnson.

Oklahoma Bulldogs Defeated

Having already won the first two games of the season the Demons were ready for their first home game. The Southwestern Oklahoma Bulldogs traveled to Demon stadium in Natchitoches where they received their second defeat from the Demons. Even though the game was close at times, the Demons came out on top with a score of 17-10. Paul Tacker recovered one of the Bulldogs first fumbles to put the Demons in a winning mood. The Demons showed the best passing defense of the season against the Bulldogs, and Donald Johnson made the longest punt return of 29 yards against this team. This made the third win for the Demons. At right, Joe Beck Payne made a key reception.

Tacker, Kelly, Hrapmann and Gaudet stopped the Bulldogs from making a gain.

Demons Upset at Homecoming

Homecoming for the Demons brought their first defeat of the season, from Northeast Louisiana's Indians. The game was close with the final score 14-15. This was a downfall for the Demons who were on a winning streak. Paul Tacker made an interception for the Demons and gained 84 yards in a big play. Linebacker Gordon Boogaerts made the other Demon interception against Northeast, and Larry Gaudet recovered the Indians' only fumble. At right Donald Johnson made a long one for the Demons. The Demons traveled to Cleveland, Miss. to play against Delta State's Statesmen in Delta Field. Delta State had a strong defense and offense, but the Demons' defense and offense was better. NSU came out at the end with a two point lead, winning their fourth game of the season. Final score: 9-7. Clinton Ebey recovered Delta State's fumble to gain needed yardage for the Demons. It was a muddy field that the Demons surrendered to the Bulldogs with the score 33-21.

Defensive end Clinton Ebey and cornerback John Dilworth both intercepted Bulldog passes. Gordon Boogaerts recovered the only fumble by the Bulldogs. The Demons gained 223 yards for the seasons best in net yards passing against Tech. Bob Wattigny made two touchdown passes against this team. At right, Boogaerts with the help of Baldwin and Clark stopped a Bulldog. Bottom the Demons planned strategy. Bottom right, Boogaerts made a flying tackle.

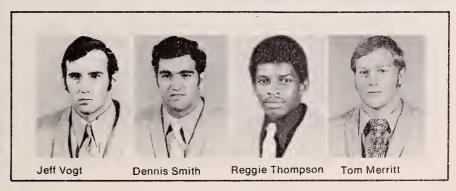

USL Stopped by Demons

Next game on the schedule was a home game against the McNeese Cowboys. This was the only game of the season which resulted in a tie. Next the Demons played USL's Ragin' Cajuns at Cajun Field. Tacker, Ebey and Hrapmann all intercepted USL balls. Ebey and Gaudet both recovered USL fumbles for extra yardage. The Demons scored more points against USL than any other team this season. Demon basketball was rough this year with 25 games scheduled for this season. The Demons had 11 wins to 14 loses. Head Coach Tynes Hildebrand said the Demon Cagers had one of the best seasons ever. Far left, Coach Tynes Hildebrand; left, Coach Dale Skinner.)

Gymnastics

Northwestern State University's Gymnasts had only three competing gymnasts this season. This was due to several injuries and several previous graduations. NSU Gymnasts have won the title of N.A.I.A. champions for six consecutive years. Since under the supervision of Coach Armando Vega (1968) the NSU team has lost only 3 meets. Coach Vega said the team should be very strong next year. This year, with the handicap of only three performing gymnasts, the team won all of the meets except one. The Gymnasts have beaten LSU twice, one of our leading competitors. The three performing Gymnasts this year were Pat Dial, Bruce Mcgartlin and Rick Russell. Next year the team will move several new gymnasts into the competition. Coach Vega is a former Olympic gymnast. He was elected to the Helms Hall of Fame and has won many first place titles in gymnastics. Coach Vega is pictured at left.

Baseball '72

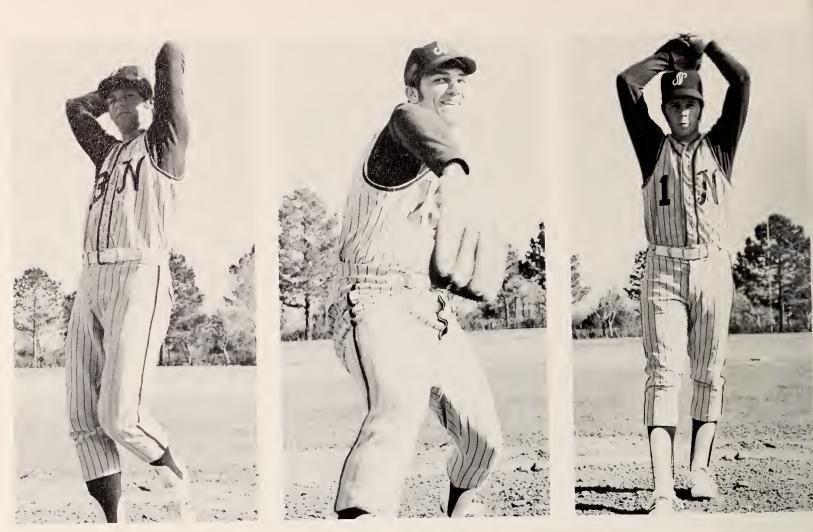

The Demon Baseball team was a young one. Not many upperclassmen returned this season. Out of nine pitchers eight were freshmen. All the starters were underclassmen except one junior and two seniors. Although the team was classified as a young one, they did well this season. The team was not as consistent as the last year, but team members put forth much needed effort. One of the leading batters was Randy Johnson.

They traveled to Mississippi College, North Texas State, Houston Invitational City Tournament and Northeast Louisiana University. The team beat such teams as University of Southwestern Louisiana; Blue Mt., Mississippi; Northeast; and won the independent tournament against lowa, Jennings and Lake Charles, La. Coach Luella Lewis said the girls had a very good season. The girls practiced long and hard throughout the year. (Pictured at the right is Coach Lewis.)

Volleyball

NSU's Girls' Volleyball team had a good showing this year. They had many long hard hours of pratice under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Farris. They have played such teams as University of Southwestern Louisiana, Texas Women's University, Lamar Tech, and University of Houston. (Pictured at the left is Coach, Mrs. Farris.

Intramurals

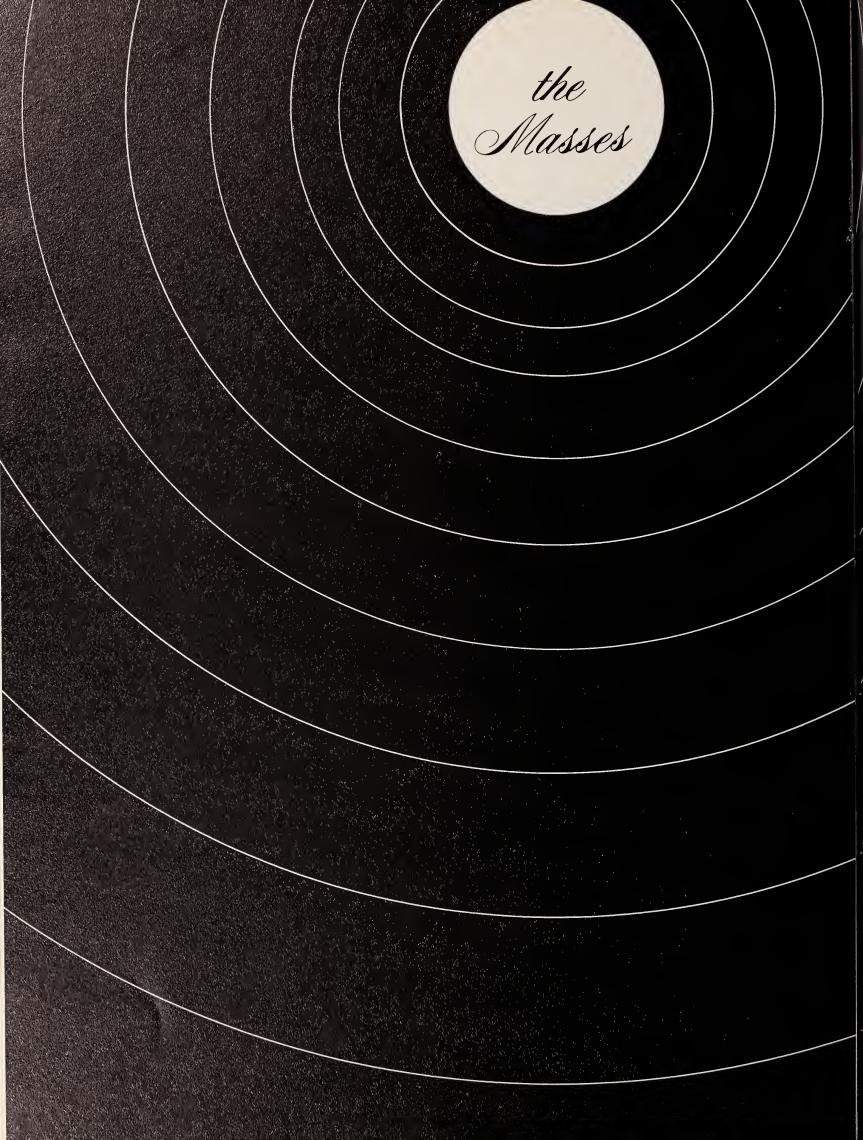

Northwestern's intramural games proved to be exciting this year. The teams were made up of sororities, fraternities, and independant teams. One of the most popular games played was football.

The boys as well as the girls played rough in order to win. Some teams even take time out to plan strategy.

College of Basic Studies

The Coilege of Basic Studies was developed during the 1969-1970 school year and began its function for the fall semester of 1970. The program was developed to provide a comprehensive program of individual attention to problems encountered by new students making the transition from high school to college. It also maintained general supervision of the new student, gave him more personal direction and guidance than was generally available in the University's senior colleges, and afforded the students who had not selected a major area of study an initial year of productive work in which to make a decision.

The student body of the College of Basic Studies was composed of all entering freshmen students and all transfer students with less than 30 semester hours of credit. A student was to remain a member of the College of Basic Studies until he had earned 30 semester hours of credit. Simply stated, all freshmen were enrolled in Basic Studies. The 1970 fall enrollment in Basic Studies was approximately 1,400 students.

Students were enrolled in two types of curriculum. The first type was suited to a student who was undecided on what degree he cared to pursue which was known as "general curriculum", and the second type of curriculum was for the student who had a major and was composed of the freshman year of work for each of the various four-year degree programs. Credits earned by a student in the College of Basic Studies became a part of the student's total university program and served as the basis for further work leading to a degree.

The College was composed of the Department of Counseling and the Department of Testing. The Department of Counseling assisted students in planning their educational and vocational careers, in developing class schedules, and in solving personal problems.

At the time of enrollment, each new student was assigned to a counselor/instructor of the Department of Counseling who assisted him in making educational choices, scheduling classes and who offered suggestions for the improvement of study habits and the solution of personal problems.

Dean Bennie G. Barron

College of Basic Studies helps many freshmen decide their major and purpose in college by different orientation classes which may be taken in the curriculum.

College of Business

The College of Business was basically divided into the two fields of business administration and business education. The College, headed by Dean David Townsend, had a faculty of 23 members.

The curriculum of business administration provided preparation for careers in business, the military, and civic or institutional management. The degrees granted in this field were Masters of Business Administration, Bachelor of Science with majors in accounting, business administration, and Economics. Also, a two-year associate degree was granted in merchandising.

The major field of business education provided preparation for teaching business at the secondary level and for gaining secretarial positions. In this area, the Master of Science in Education was given in business education and distributive education.

Bachelor of Science degrees were granted with majors in business and office education, distributive and business education, and secretarial administration. A two-year associate degree was declared in secretarial administration.

College of Education

The primary purposes of the College of Education were to prepare well-qualified teachers for elementary and secondary schools in Louisiana, and to offer services to school systems in Louisiana in a continuous effort to improve the total educational program.

In the College of Education were the Departments of Educational Psychology and Guidance; Elementary Education; Health, Physical Education and Recreation; Home Economics; Secondary Education; Special Education; Educational Media; and the Laboratory School.

The centers in Student Teaching; Reading; School Plant Planning and Child Study contributed to achieving the objectives of the College of Education. Most of the other departments of the University contributed to the teacher education program by advising students and providing course work in their respective areas.

The College of Education had three areas in which to base their purposes, and these were beliefs, general objectives, and professional objectives. The first of these beliefs was that laboratory experiences are essential for the development of the prospective teacher. Also, the maximal development of students in teacher education depends in large part upon the members of the faculty and their qualifications, total work load, and continuing professional growth.

A few of the general objectives of the College were reasonable mastery of that which was to be taught, a high degree of mastery in at least one field of study, and skill in communication effectively.

College of Nursing

Dean Peggy Ledbetter

The faculty of the College of Nursing believed that the essence of professional nursing was a commitment to serve humanity. And that the purpose of the College of Nursing was to provide educational experiences which equip individuals with competence for becoming professional practitioners of nursing and responsible contributing members of their community.

The program of studies was designed for students to pursue their freshman and sophomore studies on the Natchitoches Campus and the junior and senior studies on the Shreveport Campus. Agencies with which the Northwestern State University College of Nursing has contractual agreements include the Schumpert, Veterans Administration, Confederate Memorial Medical Center and Willis-Knighton Hospitals which are in addition to the Caddo and Bossier Units of the State Health Department.

College of Science and Technology

The College of Science and Technology has served multiple purposes for students at Northwestern State University. Its primary purpose was the provision of scientific and technological programs allowing students an opportunity to pursue degree programs in the pure and applied sciences. In addition to this function, the departments comprising the College provide curricula in Science Education, programs in Computer Science and Aviation Science, and offer service courses for students in all curricula at Northwestern.

Bachelor and Master of Science degrees were offered by the Departments of Biological Sciences, Chemistry, Geology, Industrial Technology, Mathematics, Microbiology, and Physics. The Department of Agricultural Sciences offered the Bachelor's Degree, and two year associate degree programs were available in the Departments of Industrial Technology and Chemistry.

Northwestern was recognized for its excellence in the preprofessional programs of medicine, as well as in the applied medical fields of Medical Technology and Cytotechnology. The University was proud of its initiative in providing the only degree program in Radiological Technology offered in Louisiana.

Seventy percent of the faculty of the College of Science and Technology hold the doctoral degree. Members of the faculty enjoy the benefits of modern facilities and equipment for their research and teaching activities. Northwestern annually hosts the Region Four and State Fairs as a contribution to scientific development in Louisiana.

Graduate College

Dean Leo Albritten

Northwestern State University was authorized in 1954 to offer graduate work leading to a master's degree for professional school personnel. In 1958 the graduate offerings were broadened to provide opportunities for students to earn master's degrees in the liberal arts and sciences without professional-education requirements. In December of 1966, the State Board of Education authorized the University to offer programs leading to the Specialist in Education degree, and in December 1967, the Board authorized the degrees of Doctor of Education and Doctor of Philosophy in Education.

The Graduate School seeks to introduce students to methods of scholarly research, to contribute to increased competency in teaching and school administration, to provide students with a deeper understanding of human knowledge. And to spark the initiative for further independent study and research.

A new program in the Graduate College is that of Student Personnel where students are trained to go into some form of administrative work. Here, Dean of Men Fred Bosarge works with a student.

The Department of Geology teaches surveying as part of its curriculum.

University Libraries

The Russell Library was arranged on the open-stack plan with seating space for 400 students and facilities for individual study and research.

The book collection consisted of approximately 170,000 books and bound periodicals. The Library subscribed to some 1,800 periodicals and was an official depository of the U. S. and Louisiana documents. The Library also contained about 10,000 reels of microfilm and large collections of microcards and microfiche. A special Education File was maintained for pamphlet and curriculum materials. Areas of considerable strength for a library of this size were reference, English literature, biological sciences, chemistry, and education.

An extensive special collection of Louisiana books and archival materials was maintained, including groups of manuscripts dealing with the history of North Louisiana.

A branch library was maintained at the School of Nursing clinical campus at Shreveport.
